

19th Space Photovoltaic Research and Technology Conference

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

Dear Colleague,

The 19th Space Photovoltaic Research and Technology (SPRAT) Conference sponsored by the NASA Glenn Research Center at Lewis Field will be held at the Ohio Aerospace Institute in Cleveland, Ohio, on September 20th through September 22nd, 2005. Please consider submitting an abstract for this important Space PV conference. We are encouraging abstracts on the following topics:

- Nanotechnology
- PV for space exploration
- High efficiency solar cells
- Thin film solar cells
- Space environmental effects
- Solar array technology
- Flight experiments
- Material and solar cell characterization
- Novel PV materials
- Advanced concepts
- Space radiation damage
- Systems

Abstracts should include the paper title, a complete author list (with affiliations) and an author for correspondence. The body of the abstract should be 400 words or less. A sample abstract is included for your reference, and can also be found on the website below. Please e-mail your abstracts in Microsoft Word or plain text format to Barbara.Madej@grc.nasa.gov.

The abstract deadline has been extended to June 24, 2005.

If you have any questions at this time, please contact Barbara Madej at (216) 433-2305, fax (216) 433-6106, Barbara.Madej@grc.nasa.gov, or write to the address below.

Cordially,
Dr. Thomas L. Morton
